

Journal für Psychoanalyse: Publishing Agreement

Between

Name und adress of corresponding author:

and

Psychoanalytisches Seminar Zürich (Editor)

regarding the manuscript entitled:

- 1) In signing this agreement, the corresponding author certifies that she or he is authorised by all authors of the manuscript detailed above to enter into these arrangements. All authors of the manuscript agree with the publication of the manuscript.
- 2) The submitted manuscript is original, written by the authors, and has not been published before (except in the form of an abstract or as part of a published lecture, report or working paper). The manuscript is not under consideration for publication elsewhere.
- 3) The authors warrant and represent that they have the full power and authority to enter into and execute this agreement and to convey the rights granted herein, and that such rights are not now subject to prior assignment, transfer or other encumbrance. This also applies to the text and photo originals attained from other sources (for which the authors have secured the right to reproduce any material that has already been published or copyrighted elsewhere).
- 4) The manuscript contains nothing that is unlawful, libellous, or which would, if published, constitute a breach of contract or of confidence or of commitment given to secrecy.
- 5) In the event that the parties to this agreement, either individually or collectively, are held responsible for damages or the costs of a legal process undertaken by a third party as a result of the authors' actions under points 1, 2, 3, and 4, the authors agree to release the Editor from the claims of the third party and to compensate the Editor for any resulting legal costs.
- 6) The authors agree to the following license and copyright agreement:

- a) Authors retain copyright in their work.
- b) Authors grant the journal the right of first publication online in the internet and in print.
- c) The electronic contributions in the internet are distributed under the „Creative Commons Attribution – NonCommercial – NoDerivatives 4.0 International“ - License (CC BY-NC-ND 4.0). This license allows others to share the work in any medium or format with an acknowledgement of the work's authorship and initial publication in the Journal für Psychoanalyse. However, the work may not be altered or transformed and it may not be used for commercial purposes. These conditions are irrevocable. The full text of the license may be read under <http://creativecommons.org/licenses/by-nc-nd/4.0/deed.en>.
- d) Authors are able to enter into separate, additional contractual arrangements for the non-exclusive distribution of their work, as long as the conditions of the CC BY-NC-ND 4.0 License are fulfilled and initial publication in the Journal für Psychoanalyse is acknowledged.
- e) Authors grant the Editors commercial rights, using a publishing house, to produce hardcopy volumes of the journal for sale to libraries and individuals, as well as to integrate the work, its title, and its abstract in databases, abstracting and indexing services, and other similar information sources.
- f) Court of jurisdiction is Zürich.
